Annual Awards Program Celebrates 20th Year

TINTON FALLS, NJ – December 18, 2012 – Today's Facility Manager, the leading publication for facility executives, has announced the winners of its 2013 Readers' Choice Awards. The list of companies receiving this year's awards represents a wide range of the most dynamic manufacturers and service providers in the professional facilities marketplace—from access control to carpet, doors and locks, energy management services, furniture, flooring, lamps, and more.

"The January/February 2013 issue of Today's Facility Manager (TFM) celebrates our 20th annual Readers' Choice Awards," said Susan Coene, Co-President of Group C Media Inc., parent company of TFM. "For two decades, this program has recognized and celebrated first-class products, services, and solutions within the facility management community. To earn the recognition and respect of facility managers who spend much of their working lives purchasing products and services for their facilities is an impressive achievement, and we congratulate all our winners."

Anne Vazquez, Editor in Chief of TFM, said, "These annual awards provide a view into what products and services facility managers have found beneficial to their work in the preceding year. Considering the number of options available in the facilities marketplace, being voted as a Readers' Choice Winner is a testament to what this year's winning companies have to offer."

To evaluate preferred suppliers, Today's Facility Manager distributed links to an online survey to more than 19,000 of its subscribers via opt-in e-mail.
